

BORN OF MY LOVER

(Song for Ennis)

© 2008 Alan Kim Cochran

Open Fingerpick

Dm – Am – C – G

Dm – Am – G

Dm Am C G
A bedeviled smile for an impish tease
Dm Am G
Blue eyes looking so much like mine
Dm Am C G
Born of my lover, a daughter to please
Dm Am G
And you'll be a woman, in time
Dm Am G
You'll be a woman, in time

Dm Am
Stallion rampant, but a woman's heart
Dm Am
Constitution of leather and steel
Dm Am
My daughter, you're hardy and sturdy and smart
Dm Am
Yet you can't always do as you feel
Dm Am
'can't always do as you feel

Dm Am C G
And I was there when you first saw the world,
Dm Am G
And all the wide world first saw you
Dm Am C G
Making your way, as the birthing unfurled
Dm C G
'Tis then we were no longer two

Dm C G
Then we were no longer two

Dm Am
Stallion rampant, but a woman's heart
Dm Am
Constitution of leather and steel
Dm Am
My daughter, you're hardy and sturdy and smart
Dm Am
Yet you can't always do as you feel
Dm Am
'can't always do as you feel

Dm Am C G
And, where will you go, as the years fall away?
Dm Am G
What blossoms of forgotten spring?
Dm Am Am G
Will you run wild, hold fast to the way?
Dm Am G
And what will your summertimes bring?
Dm Am G
What will your summertimes bring?

Dm Am
Stallion rampant, but a woman's heart
Dm Am
Constitution of leather and steel
Dm Am
My daughter, you're hardy and sturdy and smart
Dm Am
Yet you can't always do as you feel
Dm Am
'can't always do as you feel

Dm Am C G
A bedeviled smile for an impish tease
Dm Am G
Blue eyes looking so much like mine
Dm Am C G
Born of my lover, a daughter to please
Dm Am G
And you'll be a woman, in time

Dm Am G
You'll be a woman, in time

Dm Am G
You'll be a woman, in time...